In recent years, the integration of Ayurvedic wisdom with modern research methodologies has opened up exciting avenues for innovation in disease prevention, personalized medicine, and wellness care.

ATACON 25 This conference serves as a vibrant platform for scholars, researchers, practitioners, and students from across the country to come together, share groundbreaking findings, and spark meaningful dialogue. Our collective goal is to bridge tradition with technology, ancient knowledge with modern needs, and research with real-world application.

Over the course of this conference, we will delve into recent advances in Ayurvedic pharmacology, clinical practices, evidence-based research, and global opportunities. Let us take this opportunity to inspire one another, challenge conventional thinking, and collectively shape the future of Ayurveda as a globally respected system of medicine.
